Billiards

NEW YORK, May 15 —The Turf, Field and Farm announces that a gentleman stands ready to back John Deery to play the below mentioned experts one after another: Wm Goldthwait, Melvin Foster, Maurice Daly, Albert Garnier, Joe Dion and Cyrille Dion—game to be three ball, six hundred points, upon a five by ten carom table, and with two three-eighths balls, each the game for $250 or $500 a side, the game or games all to take place here.

Among the other delegates are Congressmen Cox, Kinsella and Augustus Schell, and Sheriff Brennan. After the selection of delegates the Convention adjourned.

Michigan Republican Convention

Congressional

WASHINGTON, May 16 —In the evening session the bill granting the right of way to the Utah and Northern Railway passed.

A number of other bills from the Committee on Public Lands passed and the House adjourned.

Grant's Special Message

WASHINGTON, May 16 —The following is the special message of President Grant accompanying the correspondence of the United States Senate: I transmit herewith the correspondence which has recently taken place respecting the difference of opinion which has arisen between this Government and that of Great Britain with regard to the powers of the Tribunal of Arbitration created under the treaty signed at Washington in May 1871. I respectfully invite the attention of the Senate to the proposed article submitted by the British Government with the object of removing the difference which seems to threaten the prosecution of the arbitration, and request an expression by the Senate of their disposition in regard to advising and concerting to a formal adoption of the articles such as are proposed by the British Government. The Senate is aware that consultation with that body in advance of entering into agreements with foreign States had many precedents in the early days of the Republic. General Washington asked their advice upon a pending question. The most important recent precedent is that of the Oregon boundary treaty of 1846. The importance of the results hanging upon the present state of the treaty with Great Britain leads me to follow these former precedents and to desire the counsel of the Senate in advance of agreeing to the proposals of Great Britain. (Signed) U S GRANT

Suicide

WASHINGTON, May 16 —Col Geo W Dougal of California took poison and died last night.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE

British Views of the Treaty

LONDON, May 16 —Journals continue the discussion of the supplementary article of the Treaty of Washington and express a hope that the United States Senate will approve it, but fear that the exigencies of the Presidential election may cause its rejection, and also hint that when politicians of both sides have finished with the treaty the people of the two nations will take it in hand and effect a satisfactory settlement.

The Globe has an article showing that the claim of the American Government for the destruction of vessels by the Shenandoah amounts to six millions five hundred thousand dollars, while the prize money claimed by officers of the Shenandoah is only $1 100 000. The Globe publishes the log of the Shenandoah, giving the name and value of every prize captured.

From Berlin

BERLIN, May 1[illegible] —The Reichsrath passed a resolution asking the Government to submit for action a draft of the law which shall regulate license granted to religious orders, and provide for the punishment of all members of such organizations guilty of such dangerous activity toward the State. The resolution was aimed more particularly at the Jesuits.

Out of 66 880 000 acres, the area of Colorado, not far from 40 000 000 remain unsold; 14 000 000 acres lie in Summit county. That county is nearly as large as four New England States, being 1[illegible]5 miles broad and 1[illegible] miles long. Four fifths of the Territory is susceptible of settlement. Its mining area is greater than any other State or Territory; its grazing capacity is surpassed only by Texas.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

(SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN)

EASTERN STATES

Sumner's Views

CHICAGO, May 17 —A Washington special gives reports of statements by Sumner in reference to the coming Presidential contest, from which it appears that the Senator thinks the Cincinnati platform a fair, admirable statesmanlike series of resolutions. He specially commends the tariff plank. Regarding candidates he is reported to say if the contest is as he hopes a personal one between Greeley and Grant, he will certainly support Mr Greeley, of whom he speaks in the highest terms.

Another Candidate

It appears that Gov Walker of Virginia has aspirations to the Democratic nomination at Baltimore.

Nebraska Republican Convention

The Nebraska State Republican Convention convened at Lincoln yesterday. Resolutions were passed endorsing the Administration, favoring constitutional amendment providing for the election of Senators, postmasters and other Government officials directly by the people, and favoring reservation of public lands for settlers. A full set of delegates to the Philadelphia Convention was appointed and they were instructed to vote for Grant and Colfax.

Strike in Michigan.

A special from Houghton, Michigan, gives a history of the recent strike of the miners of that region. It appears the trouble originated mainly with two recently arrived Cornish miners who are said to be members of the Internationale. The strikers originally numbered 2 000 men, of whom [illegible]50 have returned to work. The other 1 250 men belonging to the Calumet and Hecla mines are still idle, but keeping quiet. One hundred and fifty regulars are now at Houghton and two more companies are on the way. Gros and Vivian, the two ring leaders of the strike mentioned, were arrested a few days since by the Sheriff, but were rescued by an infuriated mob of miners who threatened the lives of the Sheriff and his posse and frightened the citizens terribly. Mr Agassiz, son of Prof Agassiz and President of the Hecla and Calumet Companies, is on his way to the scene of troubles, and the authorities will await his arrival before proceeding further.

A report is current that the Cunard steamship Tripoli, from Liverpool for New York, has been wrecked on the Irish coast and the vessel and cargo are a total loss. The passengers were safely landed.

Washington News

WASHINGTON, May 17 —The House in Committee of the Whole on the Tariff bill voted 94 to 52 to make one third of customs duties receivable in legal tender.

The Senate Foreign Committee again considered the additional article of the Treaty of Washington without reaching a conclusion.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

Supplemental Treaty

LONDON, May 17 —Leading editorials in every morning paper are devoted to the Supplemental Treaty of Washington. The delay in action by the Senate is regarded as fatal to the proposed article.

Rowing Race

It is said that the London crew, which is to row against the Atlantas, is by no means the strongest that could have been selected, but is thought strong enough for the best American crew.

From Paris.

PARIS, May 17 —Negotiations for a total evacuation of the French Territory now occupied by Germans are reported to be progressing favorably.

The London Standard, received by the last mail, remarks: We must presume Prince Bismarck intended to make a durable peace, but it is quite clear he has imposed upon France a peace which it is practically impossible she should keep. The sacrifices exacted from her are too great. They are so "ingloriously" contrived as to make submission to the new settlement almost impossible. There is not only this question of the indemnity which remains to provoke irritation and to challenge conflict, but there is that large annexation of thoroughly French provinces. The lasting peace which was promised, remains as far off as ever. No one believes in peace, and the fear of another war weighs, like an incubus upon the industry and commerce of Europe.

NASAL CATARRH.

(DISEASE TENDING TO CONSUMPTION)

THIS IS A CHRONIC AFFECTION OF THE mucous membrane of the nostrils or the throat, [illegible] in irritation or inflammation, and [illegible] by more or less discharge. It is one of the most [illegible], most disgusting, and finally, most destructive of [illegible] to the variable [illegible] of our northern [illegible].

In its early stages Catarrh often fails to [illegible] the patient's attention, so [illegible] is its [illegible]. This is an unfortunate [illegible] the most [illegible] period for [illegible] is thus unimproved, and [illegible] of the peculiar [illegible] of this [illegible] to extend [illegible] to the frontal sinuses, [illegible] the [illegible] tubes to the middle ears, and down [illegible] the larynx, trachea, and bronchia, to the air cells of the lungs.

The discharge from the affected part is at first a clear fluid, which may escape [illegible] it [illegible] to be of a more than usually acrid character. As time goes on this gives place to a fluid that is thicker, and of a yellowish green color, and still later this may be [illegible] by thick [illegible] or scales.

In all the more advanced stages the [illegible] are generally of an offensive odor, [illegible] to one's friends and to the [illegible], while his sense of smell [illegible]. This annoyance from the odor becomes almost beyond endurance, [illegible] happens the delicate bones of the nose [illegible].

Some cases early [illegible] the form of Dry [illegible]. There is then a feeling of [illegible], heat and [illegible] in the nostrils, which are often (one or both of them) closed by thickening of the mucous [illegible] and thus a difficulty of breathing [illegible] at [illegible].

On examining the nostrils in Chronic Catarrh, with instruments specially adapted to that purpose, we find their lining membrane thick[illegible] and of a deeper color than in health. There are small little points of ulceration upon which the secretion [illegible] and [illegible]. When these are picked off the [illegible] surface is irritated and frequently bleeds profusely.

In each case of Catarrh the prominent symptoms are determined by the direction in which the [illegible]. If this be [illegible] there may be pain over and [illegible] the eyes, obstruction of the lachrymal ducts causing the tears to flow over the cheek, and [illegible] inflammation of the eyes. If [illegible] there will be thickening of the walls of the [illegible], and consequent [illegible] to their [illegible] of the middle ear, [illegible] in the [illegible] and [illegible] ment of [illegible]. When the [illegible], the voice [illegible] cough [illegible], with [illegible] and [illegible], to be followed too often by [illegible] and [illegible].

In cases where the bones of the nose [illegible], not only is the [illegible] of the breath [illegible], but there is a liability to [illegible] which are flattening of the nose.

The swallowing of catarrhal [illegible] the functions of the [illegible] and loss of appetite. Debility, [illegible] and disturbance of mind soon follow. In some [illegible] the mental [illegible] is one of irritability, the patient being unduly annoyed by all the little petty [illegible] of life. In others the prominent feeling is that of [illegible] or depression of spirits, when the invalid can see no hope for himself or his affairs.

Allusion has been made to the extension of Catarrh by continuity of surface along the natural air [illegible] to the substance of the lungs, thus [illegible] and Death. In this connection it should also be remembered that the air which enters the lungs of a [illegible] patient is, every breath of it, poisoned by [illegible] from the foul secretions of the diseased surface. By such air the blood cannot be properly purified and made fit to impart healthy vigor in its unending circuit to all and every part of the animal [illegible]. One would suppose that this consideration alone would be sufficient to [illegible] every person thus affected to make early application for relief.

The treatment of Catarrh is in part constitutional, whereby the energies of the whole system are [illegible] to aid in expelling its destructive enemy. It is in part local, whereby the [illegible] is made less [illegible], diminished and finally arrested, and whereby the [illegible] surface is healed and restored to its normal [illegible].

By means of new and ingenious apparatus, Dr Aborn is able in Catarrh and all other affections of the respiratory organs to apply his remedies directly to the desired localities. Treatment is thus made more efficient as well as less disagreeable. In many cases the first application of the topical treatment will change the character of the disease and materially purify the breath.

SATURDAY MORNING MAY [illegible]

To the Rescue

We find the organ of the Portland ring [illegible] system and the Locks swindle talking about the patriotic purpose of rescuing the county and State from the corrupt influences which [illegible] if successful [illegible] blast all [illegible] bright [illegible] hopes.

Right here are expressed [illegible] it is we propose to accomplish in the approaching election. This county and city are to be rescued from a police system which for partisan purposes has been fastened upon the people at an enormous and unprecedented cost to them. The municipal rights of the city have been wrested from its citizens to gratify partisan cormorants and to advance the fortunes of a political party. The cost of this system is oppressive and is rapidly increasing. It was corruptly devised as a penalty upon this city for its Republican majorities and as a means of building up the Democratic party here at the expense of the tax payers of the city. This is the chief "corrupt influence" which this county is to be rescued from."

As to the State it is to be rescued from the "corrupt influence" which has wasted its lands plundered the people by unconstitutional salaries and fees, oppressed them with a Litigant law and squandered seventy five thousand dollars of school money upon a Democratic corporation whereby Kelly was able to reimburse himself for the money expended in crushing the voice of the people in the last election and in "fixing" the Democratic caucus when the last Legislature assembled. The State is to be "rescued" from a "corrupt influence" which has made merchandise, for partisan purposes of every public interest. It is to be "rescued" from the "corrupt influence" that bought the support of the Herald for $500 for the Locks swindle. Yes, we have a job of "rescuing" to do, and this county will show a fortnight hence how effectively it can be done.

Sundry Opinions

The leading German daily of St Louis, the Anzeiger, which before the Cincinnati Convention was a strong supporter of the "Liberal" movement, is out with great emphasis against Greeley and Brown. It takes the ground that by these nominations the Convention became untrue to the ideas which called the movement into existence and selected men for the highest positions in the country whose erratic and whimsical characters make them unfit and in reality the most unsafe persons in the United States for the Executive department of the nation.

The New York Times says that the first tendency of people when they heard of Greeley's nomination was to laugh. It says that nobody in his senses believes that so eminently shrewd and practical a people as this would ever place such a man as Horace Greeley at the head of their Government. There is no department of business which he would not disorganize and unsettle, there is no wild "ism" which he would not endeavor to incorporate into the framework of our Government, there is no foreign country with which he would not embroil us, there is no crude illusion which he would not eagerly pursue.

The Boston Post, one of the most prominent Democratic papers of the country, speaking of the Convention and its results says: "Proposing lofty results with which the people everywhere were in actual sympathy, when it came to the application of its means, it failed miserably. Few persons in their sober hours will deny that the selection of Horace Greeley, by an assembly so powerfully equipped with the popular sympathy, as a candidate for the Presidency is a disappointment for which they were not prepared."

And the New York Evening Post, a paper which favored the movement and opposed Grant, said: "The Convention surrendered, stock and fluke, to the wire-pullers; it struck the flag of its lofty principles, it sunk into common-place chicanery, intrigue, bargaining and compromise. The nomination of Greeley gives a certain air of low comedy to the election in which the country is about to engage. He lacks the courage, firmness and consistency which are required in a chief magistrate of the nation."

A Bootless Task

It is assumed by the Democratic organ that there is general dissatisfaction among Republicans with the regular Republican ticket and that there will be a general "bolt." And the Democratic organ is actually ridiculous enough to make a bid for such a "bolt" and to try to encourage it, as if there were a prospect that it might amount to something. The trouble with that organ is that it simply knows nothing of the political sentiment of Multnomah county. There was an open contest among Republicans in the primaries. It was a friendly contest. After it was over all true Republicans united for a common purpose, proposing to win in the election. But, exclaims the Herald, the Republican primaries were carried by an "imported mob." The whole thing was fraudulent, and should not bind any Republican. It is amusing to see how much interest a Democratic organ takes in this matter and what great concern it feels for Republicans. It says:

"The Republican party are called upon to support a ticket, for this county, which instead of being nominated by the Republicans of the county was in fact nominated by an imported mob from Yamhill, Washington and other counties! These are facts known to be true by hundreds of the best and most intelligent men of this community. The question now arises, why do the leaders of the party in this community, why does the OREGONIAN suffer these things to go on without protest, rebuke, or even the slightest objection?"

We are able to answer this question. The "things" alleged never took place. It is false to say that men were brought here from other counties. You have repeated that unfounded assertion often enough. You know it is not true. The facts you allege are not facts, but bald, shameless, unsubstantiated allegations. No person can show that men were "imported" as you assert. We have this assertion only from Democratic sources. It is one of the current and cheap fabrications of the canvass. The same men who voted in the primary and more besides will be here as legal voters to vote the Republican ticket on election day. Their numbers may make Democracy quake and for that matter Democracy has been quaking ever since the campaign opened.

If any considerable number of the Republicans of Multnomah county were dissatisfied they would find other ways of making that fact known than by getting a Democratic organ to speak for them. What Republicans have delegated the Herald to talk of "frauds" in the Republican primaries and to say that they will not support the Republican ticket? Not twenty five pronounced Republicans [illegible] accept the Democratic organ's call to "bolt." That there are a few not altogether satisfied is probable enough. Perfect unanimity in regard to nominations is not to be expected. But those Republicans in this county who will not support the regular Republican ticket are few of any sort and none of name. The Democratic organ will find it rather an uphill job about as hard as that which [illegible] lessons.

[illegible] New York [illegible] speaking of the [illegible]: "The Democrats are simply requested to endorse the Republicans and to append themselves to the tail of a faction of a party which they have been fighting for the last twelve years." Expressive.

Now let Greeley look to his chances. The Woman Suffrage Convention at New York has nominated Mrs Woodhull for President and Fred Douglass for Vice President of the United States.

The three German daily papers of Cincinnati refuse to support Greeley. The leading German daily of St Louis does likewise.

Immigration

INTERESTING CORRESPONDENCE

WASHINGTON, May 3, 1872

To the Editor of The Oregonian:

Sir—I have received the enclosed letter which speaks for itself. The question of turning the tide of immigration towards Oregon is one in which all parties in our State feel a deep interest. I trust our next Legislature will take some steps to facilitate it by establishing a Board of Immigration which shall serve without pay but shall have power to employ a Secretary who shall devote his entire time to the subject. A sum of money sufficient to publish and distribute statistics and to pay the Secretary should be appropriated. I have constant calls for such information, and I am sending such as I have. This matter should not be neglected by either party. In this common object we certainly ought all to unite.

Very respectfully, H W CORBETT

AMERICAN SETTLER OFFICE, }
127 Strand, W. C., April 20, 1872. }

HON H W CORBETT—Sir: I have received under cover of your signature a pamphlet on the State of Oregon addressed to the American Settler. That paper has been started on purpose to forward the interests of States and Territories seeking immigration in Great Britain and it looks for support to their Government. It is impossible to make such a paper pay at the price of issue 1d, as I am compelled to issue it to the trade at ½d or one cent. The advertising, bill posting and carriage circulating have already cost a large sum but the result is that the American Settler is the only medium through which such a pamphlet as that on Oregon can reach the public effectually, that is be put into the hands of the men who want to read it. It is to do such work that the paper has been founded. It does it thoroughly and I think it would be only fair that the States should use it and pay for the service rendered. The only reason I have been able to start such a paper is that I have all the type, hands, machinery, all the means of gathering the information required and the power of putting the paper into circulation in the right direction from the character of my business which no other house in England has. And the work has done and is doing a vast deal for British emigration to the United States. I will publish extracts from the pamphlet, but I will be disappointed if no encouragement comes from Oregon. The paper will be increased much in utility by a few of the States taking it up, presenting the facts to be published, and each ordering the distribution of a certain number of copies.

Yours faithfully,
D D MUTER

A flat boat loaded with stone was sunk in the Clackamas last Saturday while it was being brought down. The rock will be saved and the boat raised, consequently the loss will be small.

Sylvester C Simpson, State Librarian, has received from the Patent Office at Washington 52 volumes containing the specifications and drawings of all the patents issued in 1871, one volume for one week.

The largest farmer in Linn county is Mr J M McConnell. He expects to harvest this season, should crops prove reasonably fair, fifteen or sixteen thousand bushels of wheat and four thousand bushels of oats.

While cutting horses loose in Sol King's stables during the late fire at Corvallis, Mr Frank Purdom, the driver on the Albany and Corvallis stage, was run over by three of the frightened animals and quite seriously injured.

Cattle in John Day valley command good figures; four year old beef steers being quoted at $50, cows with calves $15 to $60. Pork is 10 cents per pound on foot; grain 1½ cent per pound, butter, 50 cents; chickens 75 cents to $1.

Beyond Roseburg the work of constructing the railroad will be much more difficult and will cost more than double the sum per mile required on this end of the route. The route is not yet fully decided upon but the general supposition is that it will go up Cow Creek, that being considered the most practicable route.

Miss Loosette Custar, daughter of Ruel Custar, aged 16, met with a severe accident at the house of Martin Mille[illegible] in Syracuse precinct, Linn county, on Tuesday morning last. She was standing with her back to the fire when her clothes took fire and before assistance could reach her she was badly burned.

Mr M L Culver, agent of the Beaver Hosiery Company, informs the Mercury that the company have on the way from San Francisco upwards of five thousand pounds of wool and as soon as it arrives the company will commence operations and hereafter they will have the raw material coming regularly. The demand for their goods is in advance of the supply.

The Albany Democrat says: Recent facts have become public concerning the richness of the Santiam lead mines. The vein is said to be from 18 to 20 inches in width, with a show of mineral in the walls of three to ten inches deep. The company recently incorporated to work these mines propose to commence operations about the 1st of June with a force of about fifteen men. Smelting works are soon to be erected and matters pushed rapidly to develop the hidden mineral wealth. They are distant some 50 miles from Salem.

A writer from John Day Valley in the Albany Register says: They were anxious for more rain, as very little had fell in the valley up to the date of the letter. Farmers had all got through seeding, and the prospects for fair crops were excellent. Grass was plentiful and cattle rolling fat. John Day is pronounced as good a wool country as the Willamette country, and the writer says the only drawback in sheep raising is the abundance of coyotes. Grain and all kinds of vegetables flourish in the valley and salmon trout and speckled trout abound in all the streams.

The Salem Statesman has the following among other railroad items: Capt Leonard, who has built most of the bridges so far on the O C R R, has the contract to build one across the Umpqua which will probably be a draw with four or more spans. The bridge is about eighteen miles beyond Eugene and Comstock's mills, about ten miles beyond, will furnish timber for its construction. The men on the line are all in excellent spirits, and as a general thing enjoying good health, with but a few cases of ague in the camp. Common laborers are paid $2 25 a day and board themselves; carpenters demanding from $3 to $4 a day. The men are generally employed by the four and as a general thing make good wages. A very large force of Chinamen are engaged in grading, and the company is doing an immense amount of work. They had rather a severe time in going through the Pass Creek region but they now meet with no great difficulties.

DR A M LOREYS & Co—For two years I was afflicted with Rheumatism [illegible] those who [illegible] but experienced nothing more than a temporary relief, the disease always returning. Some months since I concluded to take your Unk Weed Remedy and the result was a speedy and Permanent Cure, the Rheumatism being entirely eradicated from the system. The UNK is also a Tonic of the very highest order. It increases the appetite and invigorates the body. I cheerfully bear testimony to its good effect upon me and feel sure that it will do all you claim for it.

FINE SHEEP.—In a business letter from Mr. J. M. Dewar, of Walla Walla, he mentions the fact that he had just received a letter from a who has started from Canada with a of fine Cotswold sheep, which will be for sale upon their arrival at Portland. These sheep are said by sheep raisers to be remarkably adapted to this climate, and this importation will be distributed throughout Oregon and Washington Territory, will have a great tendency to elevate the breed of sheep throughout the country where they are scattered.

SALEM AND THIS SIDE.

An observing friend, who has just returned from a trip to Salem, furnishes us the following items of things noted on his visit:

Salem has had its dull season, like other places, but judging from the appearance of things about the city we concluded that lively times were approaching, and from information received, our conclusions were correct. Politics and base ball occupy the attention of everybody—and we can say so for those who do not talk politics play base ball and vice versa. As to the former owing to our limited stay we did not learn much, but what little information we did receive assured us that although many attempts have been made to fuse the entire Republican ticket will be elected by a majority which will equal if not exceed that of last election.

The Statesman, with Crandall at the helm, is hauling the Democracy over the coals in a manner that is quite enjoyable. He is doing a power of good for the party, particularly in Marion county.

It would be difficult to estimate the number of base ball clubs organized in the vicinity of Salem this season. A new club is organized daily, and if the fever keeps up for a few weeks more, all Salem will be base ballists. It is an open question with the daily newspapers as to which is the base ball organ. So far, the College club has carried off the laurels. His Excellency, the Governor, as a political base ballist is a poor hitter, and we think he will not make a run—for senator.

Some half dozen buildings of a prominent character are in course of erection among which may be mentioned the County Court House, Methodist Church, Sisters School and the residence of E. N. Cooke, Esq. The present fine weather will enable the workmen to push forward their work with rapidity.

The Mercury and Farmer have located in a new building on State street, which is more convenient for the transaction of the printing business. Waite's Job Printing office, and Cook's Book Bindery, occupy rooms in the same building. The Statesman remains in the old location—Commercial street.

The Chemeketa House, a popular institution with the traveling public, remains closed. No sign of life can be seen about it. It is likely it will be re-opened in the fall—probably about Fair time.

There being only two boarders in the county jail, Tom Reynolds, Deputy Sheriff, has taken advantage of this favorable opportunity to hie away to Yamhill county where he is to assist in taking a band of eighty cattle and some twenty horses from that county to Portland, thence east of the mountains.

A subscription list has been opened and a considerable amount of money has been collected towards purchasing a town clock, to be placed on the new Court House.

The Taylor family will open Friday evening at Reed's Opera House. Mart (who is the 'family') is about played out in Oregon, and I fear the "sweet singer's" (?) purse will not be in a healthy condition when he gets through with his present tour.

N. A. Young, for some time at the East Portland freight depot, is now freight agent at Salem. George Richard, late of the Western Union Telegraph Company at Portland, is at home as manager of that company at the Capital.

Coming this way from Salem we were favorably impressed with the condition of things in the agricultural line, considering the limited means we had of obtaining information on that subject. The new towns growing on the line of the road indicate a decided improvement in many respects.

Gervais has made rapid strides, and ranks as one of the most promising places between Portland and Salem. A new railroad depot is being constructed at Hubbard's Station. In the basin at Oregon City several up river boats are lying idle. The steamers Dayton and Albany alone do the freighting business above Oregon City.

At the Machine Shops three new coaches are receiving the finishing touches. The trucks of three more are ready for the coaches. The President's car has undergone a complete change. A commissary car, for the use of Mr. Holladay and parties who may accompany him on a trip, has been completed. It is divided into a kitchen (with all the cooking appurtenances) dining room and sitting room, and will be quite convenient for excursions. Several box and dump cars are being built.

Thirty five tons of green coffee have been received at this port from May 1st to May 15th. Webfoot is fond of the pleasant berry.

Every paper up the valley is jubilating over the prospects of a Fourth of July celebration. Portland is serene at least on that subject.

Are the Democrats on the "fuse" with the O P. Mason and phorty seven others. "Peep's Tick" is the leading conundrum of the hour.

An addition to the wharf of Moffett & Stephens will be built shortly. Timber is on the ground and a number of workmen are engaged in framing.

The wild strawberry crop in the vicinity of Vancouver promises to be unusually abundant this season. We learn that several strawberry picnics are contemplated as soon as the berries ripen a little more.

Bismarck, the great German diplomatist, it is said was born on the 1st of April but is no "April fool." We have many in these latitudes who were not born in that month, but who would be victims of the fool killer, nevertheless.

AMUSEMENTS.

CONCERT LAST EVENING.—The amateur vocal and instrumental musicians of the city gave a benefit concert last evening, under the auspices of the Ladies Relief Society. Masonic Hall was crowded to repletion with as intelligent and fashionable an audience as one generally sees in this city. The programme was among the best which have been offered to a Portland public, and was very creditably rendered in all its details. The performance was such that no critical ear, however well practised, could find just ground for criticism. Many of the duets and solos would have reflected credit on professionals in the style, taste and execution displayed by their renditions. We sincerely regret that want of space prevents a more extended notice of this excellent entertainment. We should be gratified to speak of the individual rendition of each separate piece. Each performance met with a hearty encore. Suffice it to say, that the concert gave entire satisfaction to all, and was a financial success. The first part of the programme as advertised, was strictly carried out, but the second part was materially altered owing to the unexpected indisposition of Prof. Nesfield, who was not able to be present.

Ice wagons have made their appearance.

How Not to Die.

Thousands fall a prey to disease not because the maladies that affect them are necessarily fatal, but because they lack the requisite amount of active vitality to make a valiant resistance to the enemy. It is a wise precaution to keep the body always in a state of defence—always prepared to fend off the germs of epidemic and other disorders, and to baffle the evil influence of dark miasma and sudden thermometrical changes. There is no difficulty in doing this. It is a fact as well authenticated as that two and two make four that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are specially adapted to this purpose, and for the simple reason that its invigorating and regulating properties are superior to those of any other medicine in the world. During the twenty years that it has been in general use ample opportunities have been afforded to compare its medicinal properties with those of other preparations claiming to be of a similar class, and the result has been its adoption by the American people as the standard tonic of the age, its introduction into every civilized portion of the Western Hemisphere, and an annual sale which dwarfs into insignificance the demand for all its would be competitors.

The record upon which its popularity rests is a curiosity in medical literature, for it includes no claim at unlimited variety of human ailments [illegible] In fact no other remedy possesses such a variety of [illegible] and it is to these characteristics that it owes its prestige as a household medicine.

A Thousand Years Ago

Thou and I in spirit-land
A thousand years ago
Watched the waves beat on the strand
Ceaseless ebb and flow
Vowed to love and ove—
A thousand years ago

Thou and I in green wood shade
Nine hundred years ago
Heard the wild dove tle glade
Murmuring soft an ow
I went to love forever n
Nine hundred years ago

Thou and I in yonder star
Eight hundred years ago
Saw strange forms of light afar
In wild beauty glow
All things change but love endures
Now as long ago

Thou and I in Norman halls
Seven hundred years ago
Heard the warden on the walls
Loud his trumpet blow—
Ton amors sera tojors
Seven hundred years ago

Thou and I in Germany
Six hundred years ago—
Then I bound the red cross on
True love I must go
But we part to meet again
In the endless flow

Thou and I in Syrian plains
Five hundred years ago
Felt the wild fire in our veins
To a fever glow
All things die but love lives on
Now as long ago

Thou and I in shadow land
Four hundred years ago
Saw strange flowers bloom on the strand—
Heard strange breezes blow
In the deal ove s real
This alone I know

Thou and I in Italy
Three hundred years ago
Lived in faith and died for God
Felt the faggots glow
Ever new and ever true
Three hundred years ago

Thou and I on Southern seas
Two hundred years ago
Felt the perfumed even breeze
Spoke in Spanish by the trees,
Had no care or wo
Life went dreamily in song,
Two hundred years ago.

Thou and I 'mid Northern snows
One hundred years ago
Led an iron silent life
And were glad to flow
Onward into changing death
One hundred years ago

Thou and I but yesterday
Met in fashion's show
Love, did you her me
Love of long ago?
Yes we keep the fond oaths sworn
A thousand years ago!

The Alabama Question

[From the Boston Advertiser]

The authoritative statement of the position of our Government with regard to the indirect claims will, we are sure, prove highly satisfactory to a great majority of the people of the country It has all along been a mere technicality that separated the two Governments There have probably not been at any time 100 people in the United States who expected that a mill would be awarded for indirect damages, nor did our case estimate the amount, or hint that the United States would press them before the arbitration It has been, and is now the general opinion that the British Government and people blustered too soon and too much, and that the misunderstanding could have been settled more speedily if there had been less indignation and protestation on the other side We on our part felt that we were clearly within our right in putting the claims into the case, and the only question in the mind of any one is whether it was expedient in view of what has since taken place The problem is how to meet a difficulty that has arisen, and not to discover how it arose Both parties are desirous of a better understanding, and it has been, in all the diplomatic correspondence that has taken place, the effort of both sides to find some common ground on which the two Governments could meet. Our Government has now stated its position. It will not withdraw from the ground it has deliberately taken, but it will agree to act as if the ground had not been taken on certain conditions

The recognition of indirect claims would impose onerous duties on neutrals We are as little desirous as great Britain of assuming such burdens of this character. We are quite as likely to be neutral when Great Britain is a belligerent, as to be fighting when England is at peace It is proposed, therefore, that we shall agree not to mention consequential damages any further before the arbitrators, and that it be practically recognized as a new rule of international law between Great Britain the United States that, in any future events of the kind that resulted in the Alabama controversy and treaty, only direct claims shall be considered. We say it is proposed that such an agreement shall be made but it would be more correct to say that our Government is prepared to receive and to concur in such proposal

We are unable to see why this should not be a satisfactory settlement for both parties Great Britain will be relieved of all apprehension for the present and for the future The duties of belligerents will be no more onerous than they are made by the treaty according to the construction put upon it by Great Britain herself. The mere fact that the indirect claims still stand as a part of our case does not injure her in the least, for she has an assurance that neither now nor hereafter will advantage be taken of the claim For our part we abandon no position we have assumed. We only claimed the right to state to the arbitrators that we regarded the injury done us by the rebel cruisers as greater than was measured by the actual amount of property destroyed. We ask nothing however, more than is clearly our due We should probably not have pressed the indirect claims at all, we will promise not to do so if it shall be understood for the future that only direct claims are to be recognized This is the whole of our Government's suggestion of a compromise, and we hope it will prove to be acceptable both to the British Government and to the people of both countries

The recommendation of the American Medical Association with reference to the manner in which poisons shall be sold, ought to be adopted by every drug store which is desirous of retaining the patronage of the public The recommendation is that in addition to the usual label of "Poison," the drug shall be put up in bottles roughened on the surface so that the sense of touch shall be used to give the alarm, and that the name of the antidote if any, and the directions for its use shall also be set forth in a conspicuous place

Opium eating has become quite common in the United States, and particularly in the West The Legislature of Kentucky in order to check this practice, has just passed a bill that, on the affidavit of two respectable citizens, any persons who, through the excessive use of opium, arsenic, hasheesh, or any other drug, has become incompetent to manage himself or his estate may be confined in an asylum and placed under guardianship as in the case of habitual drunkards or lunatics

A cynical lady in Connecticut amuses herself with the polite hypocrisy of society in a curious way She has an orange plant in her parlor which bears neither bud nor blossom but she has had two full blown flowers and a half opened bud of wax placed upon the barren stalk. Her callers all admire the sweet perfume of the lovely flowers and the gentlemen have noticed that the bud has expanded considerably since they called before

PLANTATION BITTERS!

S. T.—1860—X.

This wonderful vegetable restorative is the sheet-anchor of the feeble and debilitated. As a tonic and cordial for the aged and languid it has no equal among stomachics. As a remedy for the nervous weakness to which women are especially subject, it is superseding every other stimulant In all climates, tropical, temperate or frigid it acts as a specific in every species of disorder which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down the animal spirits
